Dear All,

The World Health Organization (WHO) Regional Office for Africa (AFRO), in close collaboration with the Africa Centres for Disease Control and Prevention (Africa CDC) are pleased to announce their partnership with EAHS Africa for their upcoming EAHS Nairobi Conference, Africa's oldest established and leading humanitarian and disaster relief conference/expo. from the 08th – 09th of December 2022. This year's Conference will be looking at the impact of COVID-19 on the SDGs, examining how recovery from the pandemic needs to be sustainable and resilient to place the world back on track to realize the 2030 Agenda during the Decade of Action and Delivery. The Conference will provide a platform for high-level discussion and dialogue by a range of stakeholders and discuss ways in which the private sector can contribute to the SDGs and foster multi-stakeholder partnerships to regain momentum towards achieving the 2030 Agenda.

The covid-19 pandemic highlighted the crucial role of global partnerships, and with the importance of partnerships and global cooperation in mind, the theme for this year's conference will be “The impact of COVID-19 & the role of cross-sector collaboration and procurement in achieving the SDGs.”

EAHS Nairobi 2022 will present a unique opportunity to showcase innovations, as well as latest products and technologies, bringing together Senior attendees from United Nations and government agencies, development banks, national and international NGOs, the Private Sector and all key stakeholders to meet, Network and engage. In-depth thematic plenary sessions, & presentations will take place on key topic areas. As one of the pioneers of matchmaking meetings, EAHS Nairobi will offer an Engagement Hub, the only one of its kind, worldwide, providing the UN, National & International NGOs, and the aid community, with B2B one-to-one meetings to meet suppliers of products and services to initiate partnerships to address the needs of the region.

WHO AFRO and the Africa CDC are looking forward to meeting with and initiating discussions with the International Private Sector. We thank EAHS Africa for arranging this conference that brings together participants from leading international organizations and the Private Sector.
